I. WALDENSIAN CHURCH.

This Church, which has been preserved by God in the Waldensian Valleys of Piedmont during many persecutions, commenced the work of evangelisation as soon as liberty was granted by King Carlo Alberto (17th February 1848). At that time it had only 18 ordained ministers; it has now 72, who are entitled to sit, along with an elder from each of the parishes in the Valleys, in the annual Synod, which commences on the first Monday of September. To this Assembly the Table, the Committee of Evangelisation, the Hospital Committee, and the Council of the Theological School give an account of their proceedings, and the members of these Committees for the following year are elected.

The mission work directed by this Committee is divided into five Districts, or Presbyteries, 1st Piedmont, Liguria and Nice; 2nd Lombardy, Venice and Emilia; 3rd Tuscany and Sardinia; 4th The Marches, Rome and Naples; 5th Sicily. Delegates from the Consistories of the Churches in each District meet at least once a year as a District Conference to discuss the interests of the various Churches which they represent. Once every three years there is held a General Conference, at which all questions on organisation and discipline that have not been settled at the District Conferences are discussed. The deliberations of this Assembly must, however, receive the sanction of the Waldensian Synod before they acquire a legislative character.

II. FREE CHRISTIAN CHURCH (The Brethren).

Before 1848 the Gospel had penetrated into Tuscany, and several Italians, including Count Guicciardini, had been brought to a knowledge of the truth. These having come in contact with some English Christians, commenced in Florence a work entirely independent of any ecclesiastical organisation, which gradually penetrated to all the provinces of Italy. This Church numbers about fifty groups of Brethren; but as it has been impossible to obtain complete information and statistics, we give only the addresses of the places of worship and the names of the evangelists in the principal cities, and mention the smaller towns where meetings are held, generally in private houses.

III. THE FREE CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN ITALY.

Some independent Congregations that had been formed through the perusal of the Word of God, met together in 1865 in order to organise themselves as an Ecclesiastical Body. It was only, however, in 1870 that they drew up a Confession of Faith. From that time they took the name of the Free Christian Church in Italy.

Every congregation that desires to form part of this Union must declare its willingness to accept the principles of this Church, and must make application for admission to the Committee, who will submit the request to the consideration of the General Assembly.

V. EPISCOPAL METHODIST CHURCH.

28

This is a Section of the primitive Methodist Church which was organised by two colleagues of Wesley according to the Episcopal system in 1784. As amongst the Wesleyans, every congregation is divided into groups consisting of twelve or more persons, presided over by a counsellor, in order to quicken the religious life, and regularly collect the contributions. The legislative authority of this Church resides, 1st. In the General Conferences, composed of clerical and lay delegates from the Annual Conferences, which meet every four years, and are presided over by the General Superintendents. 2nd In the Annual Conferences, presided over by the Bishops. 3rd In the District Conferences presided over by the Presiding Elder of the District and 4th in the Quarterly Conferences. This denomination numbers in America, where it is most largely represented, more than two million communicants, and twenty-five thousand ministers. It commenced its work of evangelisation in Italy in January 1873. On the 19th March 1881 the Italian mission was constituted into a regular Annual Conference, and thus acquired a thoroughly normal position, and an independent ecclesiastical organisation.

President: Rev. Dr. LEROY M. VERNON, 2 Piazza Poli, ROME.
